05-07-03 09:30 AM EST | ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--The Oracle Applications Users Group (OAUG), the knowledgebase for Oracle(R) applications users, and Solution Beacon, a leading provider of expert-level resources to Fortune 1000 companies, government and education entities, announced today that the two groups will co-host a workshop on Oracle's Release 11i on May 19-20 at the Embassy Suites O'Hare Hotel in Chicago.

The workshop is designed to help Oracle users better manage the Oracle application environment delivered with the latest version of Oracle's Release 11i suite of applications.

"There is a strong demand among applications users for the latest information on Oracle's Release 11i," said Arthur Hunt, president of OAUG. "We are co-hosting the event to bridge the gap between Oracle applications developers and users and enable our membership to gain practical knowledge about the popular Release 11i at the local level."

"Solution Beacon believes sharing information is important to Oracle applications users," said Jeff Linden, president of Solution Beacon. "We are excited to team with OAUG and bring valuable information to the user community."

The topics to be discussed at the meeting include the concepts and architecture of Release 11i, installation, administration, maintenance and upgrade and migration planning.

The workshop is free to attend but space is limited. Those interested in attending the event or seeking additional information, should refer to OAUG's Web site (www.oaug.com).

The workshop in Chicago is part of a series of three similar workshops designed to provide information about Oracle's 11i release. The first workshop occurred in Washington, D.C., March 25, and the workshop following the event in Chicago will be held in Dallas, May 21-22.
